Self Drive Journeys

Self-drive holidays are a very satisfying way to explore Australia and New Zealand. Travel as you please, plan your own itinerary and explore as far as you want. Both countries have a good network of well-maintained roads and highways and, for the more intrepid, quite a few dusty tracks to take you into the Outback. Check out our pre-planned ideas. We also offer city stay ideas pre and post your road trip.

DRIVING LAWS

“Aussies” and “Kiwis” drive on the left hand side of the road. The maximum speed limit in cities and towns is 60km/h (35mph) and 100km/h (62mph) on country roads and highways, unless signs indicate otherwise. Strict drink-driving laws apply and it is compulsory for drivers and passengers to wear seatbelts at all times.

DRIVING LICENSES

A bona-fide tourist may drive in Australia & New Zealand on a valid drivers license in English for the same class of vehicle. Licenses must be carried when driving, in addition to a valid passport. An International Drivers Permit is not sufficient by itself and must be accompanied by a valid drivers permit.

OUTBACK TRAVEL

Take precautions when travelling independently in isolated outback areas. Make sure you carry ample supplies of petrol (gas) and water. Allow at least one gallon (4.5 litres) of water per person per day. In the case of a breakdown, stay with your vehicle where there is shade and protection from the heat.

YOUR CHOICE

Choose from any of our pre-planned itineraries, or if you have the time, combine one or more itineraries to create a longer tour.

Alternatively we can custom design a personalized itinerary.

The Goway self drive experts have designed over 60 Road Trips. See overall samples on pages 7 and 93
